Artifact Balderdash

In this game, we will practice making inferences about how artifacts were used. We will observe several artifacts, and your goal is to come up with a convincing hypothesis for each. This is called a BLUFF. The dealer will read all the BLUFFs, as well as the correct answer. You will not know which is the correct answer. Each person will make a guess about which is the correct answer. You will receive points as follows:

1 POINT every time someone else guesses that your BLUFF is the correct answer.

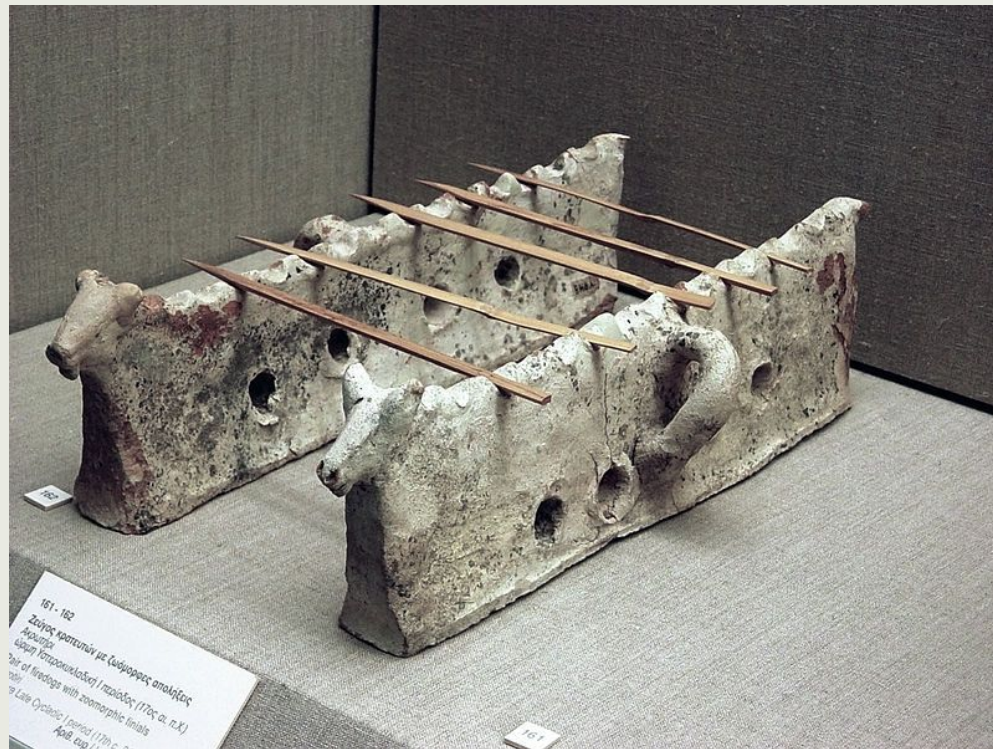

2 POINTS every time you guess the correct answer.

3 POINTS if your BLUFF closely resembles the correct answer.

We will play in teams of TWO. Make sure nobody else can hear your BLUFF!
