

Let's Brainstorm!

ANOTHER SIDE OF THE STORY

Directions: For your next prompt, you are going to imagine you're a villain and tell a story from their point of view. You can use a villain from a story you already know or create your own, but either way, you want to show how this character isn't as evil as people might think they are.

To start, let's brainstorm some information about your villain!

I am...

What do you look like? Where are you from and where do you live now?

Why do people think you are evil? How did you become that way?

Let's Brainstorm! (Cont.)

How did you feel when the other character's misunderstood you?

| |
|--|
| |
| |
| |
| |
| |

Let's Brainstorm! (Cont.)

WHAT HAPPENS...

Directions: Now, spend some time brainstorming some ideas for the PLOT of your story. You don't need to write complete sentences! Just write down some ideas for things that can happen.

IN THE BEGINNING...

IN THE MIDDLE...

IN THE END...