

Fairy Tale Characters In 700 Characters

Fairy tales are stories that have what is called “longevity” – even though they were first written and told many years ago, their lessons are still interesting to people in modern times.

What would the characters in these fairy tales say if they could use Twitter? Re-tell the story of the fairy tale in five Tweets or fewer.

Things to remember:

- One Tweet = 140 characters, or two short sentences.
- Hashtags are a way of sorting Tweets and adding humor to your writing. You must use at least two hashtags in your five Tweets. We’ve suggested a few, but feel free to use your imagination!
- Vibrant word choices will help you write concise Tweets.

The fairy tale I am retelling is:

When You've Finished Re-telling The Story:

A Twitter bio is an opportunity for a Twitter user to tell the world something interesting about who he or she is. It is also limited to 140 characters, or two short sentences. You may use hashtags and other users' Twitter handles in your bio.

Example: @TheRealCinderella

#Princess #TheGoodSister #NeatFreak Just a girl who met my @PrinceCharming. BFFs: @Rapunzel @TheSleepingBeauty @SnowWhitest
