

” WRITING

Spyman

by Jesús, 826 Valencia

TYPE NARRATIVE

Spyman was sitting in a cafe, eating a donut. All of a sudden, the donut turned into a bagel! Spyman hated bagels. He took a bite and yelled, “What is this?” He knew it was his enemy, Evil Bagel.

There were enemies because they were brothers and they didn’t get along. They used to get along, but one day, they destroyed each other. Spyman saw Evil Bagel eating a bagel, even though they both had promised to never eat bagels. They both hated them. Spyman said, “Oh, this was Evil Bagel!”

He went to his hideout and got his red and black suit. He also got his red and blue Bugatti, and went to find his brother, Evil Bagel.

Spyman went to Evil Bagel’s lair. Evil Bagel was hiding in his lair. Spyman couldn’t find his brother, so he used the GPS chip that he put in his brother when they were kids. “I haven’t used this in a while,” said Spyman.

Evil Bagel said, “I heard that! How dare you install that on me!” They fought until Spyman hit him with his ray gun and defeated him. Thankfully, only four hundred donuts were turned into bagels, and everyone lived.