Write Your Way Curriculum: Grades 9-12

Session 1 of 1

Write Your Way Curriculum (9-12)

Dear educators, parents, and families,

Our Write Your Way Writing Curriculum is a flexible, 4-week unit are designed to engage and reconnect students with authentic purposes for writing—to reflect, connect, create, and make a difference. Students will write their way through topics like identity, community, and the positive change they can create by putting pen to paper and sharing their voice.

For educators, the curriculum will lay a foundation for building brave and welcoming spaces for young writers. Each curriculum guide includes a unit calendar, weekly schedules, links to writing Sparks and lessons, student mentor texts, and strategies for students to revise and share their work.

Whether you teach all or part of the unit, get started planning by:

1. Download the Write Your Way Writing Curriculum (Grades 6-8)
2. Utilize the unit calendar and weekly schedules provided in the guide
3. For each Spark and lesson, follow the hyperlink in the guide, read the activity, and print handouts and/or prepare online versions to share with students beforehand
4. Try the revision and share-out strategy that is recommended for each week, or use your own favorite strategies
5. Write along with students, take risks, and have fun with each writing activity!
