Who I'll Always Be

POETRY

I am sunshine that pops out of nowhere after a rainy day

I am a great big jar of honey that you can just dig into

I am a diary, someone you can confide in and tell all your deepest secrets to

I am a thousand smiles and a million more hugs

I am a little speck of color on a plain white page

I am the flower dancing on a breezy day

I am the flying sparks from a sparkler

I am yellow

I am the Sun

And the Sun is who I'll always be
