

99 WRITING

School Blues

by Jamie, 826 Valencia

TYPE
POETRY

Frustration with homework and studying for tests.

I wish I could throw my homework into outer space.

I am as angry as a rhino getting attacked
when there is homework on weekends.

I am as lazy as a sloth when I try to wake up for school.

I get angry when there is racism to others,
afraid like a deer getting attacked by a lion.

When people are on drugs or drink alcohol,
when people are homeless,

I feel sad as a person losing a family.