Italac was a villain, and he was the number one villain. He captured people for money. His goal was to capture the king and queen of Atarica for wealth. One day, he came up with a plan. His plan was to give Princess Emma evil powers to help form capture her parents.

Emma was looking out of the window when all of the sudden, she got shot!

“Ahhhhhh!” cried Emma. She fell out of the window. She almost reached the ground when she started fling. She started to realize that she had more powers. The shot was from Italac, who had hoped that Emma would become evil.

When the next morning came, she wanted to tell her parents that she had powers. As she walked down the stairs, she heard a voice speaking to her mom and dad. It was Italac.

“You guys owe me $pi,” said Italac. As they looked at Italac, they started to realize it was their childhood friend that they used to call Isaac.

The king and queen said, “Please don’t, we need our money for our country, Atarica.”

“No way!” said Italac. Italaca decided he would kidnap Emma’s parents.

Emma knew she had to act quickly. She flew up to find Italac. Something got in her way. It was a superhero. He looked at her and said, “My parents died and I ran away. I didn’t want to go to the boy’s orphanage.”

Emma told this superhero, “You can be my sidekick. What is your name?”

“Kalvin Johnson.”

“Okay, we have a mission. The plan is that you will distract the villain while I fly and use my laser.” He said okay and they went into action.

The two, Emma and Kalvin, defeated Italac and saved her parents, the king and queen.

Emma said, “Mom and Dad, it’s me, Emma. This is Calvin Johnson.” Her parents were so happy she saved them. Emma told Calvin, “You’re getting adopted!”

Calvin was so happy. Now there was a prince and a princess. There was a king and a queen. They all lived happily ever after.

Italac was captured by the police and put in jail.

“Noooooo!” said Italac or Isaac, whatever you want to call him. He could never steal money from anyone again.
