In the
beginning,
there was only corn
and sun.

Soon, there
was a bear
that was really
hungry. So,
she ate the
corn. The corn did
nothing so it
died in the
bear's belly.

One year
after, more
corn grew.

Later, a person (who was not hungry) took the corn and

survived on
it for five
nights.

When those nights were
over, there was no more corn to be grown.
