

Dialogue Tree Branching

Who are your two characters?
Write a one-word description of each character's personality.
Below, write out a dialogue they might have. It might help to think of a disagreement they might be having.

Dialogue Tree Branching

What if one of your characters decided to act differently midway through the conversation?

Go back to the front of this page and circle a key line in their dialogue and then come back here.

What different thing might that character have said?

Now, below, continue the dialogue tree from that point. Think about how things might develop differently!
