Now that you've decided on character, brainstorm some problems or conflicts that your superhero/supervillain might face:

Example: My superhero, Geronimo Giraffe, is a super-giraffe that uses his tall neck to save people from burning buildings. However, he is deathly afraid of snakes. If his enemy, Monster Mouse, wanted to defeat him, maybe Geronimo Giraffe would find himself at a fire, but before he can save a kid trapped on the third floor of the burning building, Monster Mouse would set loose a snake to come slithering towards him. Geronimo Giraffe would have to decide whether to run away or to save the kids in the building.
