

WRITING

The Delulu Ocean

Come to the beach

Where it's blue like the sky

The waves come chasing after you, like kids playing tag at the park

We can build sand castles

Near the ocean shore

Where we can pour drinks for each other

The sunset wakes up slowly, like a teenager waking up for school

The sunset is as soft as cotton candy

We watch the sunset go down while listening to music

The beach is lonely and cold

Now the time goes slow

It was all a dream
