I will be a lifesaver

I will be the love my patients will feel

I will be the scalpel cut of the heart

I will be the smell of human flesh

I will be the creator of the cure for all cancers

I will be the hand holds the heart

I will be the pressure on the chest if a patient goes into cardiac arrest

I will be the pinch of the needle

I will be the stethoscope of the heart's whispers

I will be the reflex of the hammer

I will be the otoscope of the whispers that have been told

I will be the ophthalmoscope of who have walked away during hard times

I will be the beep of the heart monitor

I will be the time of the death

I will be the tears of those who have lost a loved one

I will be the grief

I will be the late hours

I will be the ICU

I will be the ER & OR

But most importantly I will be a lifesaver
