Ava is a comfort fairy. She has long braided hair. She wears white-and-pink striped pants and small white shoes. She comforts me when I'm sad, scared, and nervous. She wears a short pink dress and two white bows on her braids. Ava has a bubbly personality. She has a really big sweet tooth and loves to play hide-and-seek. Ava has a habit of talking too fast and flapping her wings fast when she's in panic mode. Ava lives in comfort everywhere on Earth. She can make anything float, fly, and read minds. Together, we like to read, draw, and play hide-and-seek.

I met Ava in kindergarten. She appeared with a giant cookie almost completely eaten during recess. She flew up to me and we had a long conversation. She then flew with me to class and we became friends. Ava's favorite foods are pasta, lasagna, and all desserts and sweet things alike. Ava is fearless. She'd stay by my side no matter what until she couldn't. And she would comfort me for hours. Ava wants me to be happy and calm. She also would love sweets, but I always come first. Only I can see Ava because she conceals herself with magic. Ava left me as I grew up to be another child's comfort fairy.

ABOUT THE PROJECT
