On the first day of school, I was feeling scared and sad. Then Romina gave me a hug. I felt happy. Then Diego gave me a hug too. I felt so happy that we were friends and made more friends. My friends and I were a little confident so I never felt scared and sad again.

Then when I got free time, I saw somebody who was sad.

I asked, "What happened?"

He said, "Somebody hurt me." I grabbed him and gave him a hug and we were friends. I made more and more friends. I felt more confident and made friends in my class.
